We know that body sizes are not all the same and that every single human being looks unique! Some patterns may be more fitting to your body compared to other patterns. The fit notes are very important and you should pay attention to the size prior to starting so that any modifications (one size up/ down) are clear. Please note that this chart is just a guideline and each number in the size table represents an average of hundreds or thousands of people measurements.

Fabric:

The most common fabrics used in swimsuits are nylon, spandex (LYCRA), cotton, and polyester. Nylon dries fast, is made of strong fibers and fits the body well. Cotton swimsuits are trendy in design but aren't fitted to the body. Spandex is in almost every swimsuit because of its desirable elasticity.

Other materials:

Thread - Polyester or wooly nylon thread or any other stretchy thread you preferred.
We recomend toy use wooly nylon thread

Elastic- Use any of your preferred swimwear elastic however we recomend to use rubber elastic to get the better result.
